

"MOONSHINE" LURED BOYS TO KENTUCKY

Son of N. Y. Steel Contractor Caught in Mountains With Chums After Boiling School.

(Special to The Evening World)
RICHMOND, Ky., Jan. 18.—Lured among the feuds and moonshines of the Kentucky mountains lured Herbert McCord, sixteen years old, from the Lawrenceville, N. J., School for Boys, to Richmond the youth told a detective employed by his father Frank B. McCord, New York steel contractor, who traced him here and took him back to school last night.

The boy gained his idea of Kentucky life from the movies, he said, and ready accepted a dare from his school chum, Reed Weisberg, sixteen, of Richmond, to make the trip. Rising early Thursday the youths took a train from Trenton to Washington. There they took in the sights and the movies and doctored detectives on their trail by painting out the names on their suitcases and giving false names to the Washington station police, when they took a train for Winchester, Ky., as though their only would take them. Weisberg, there, had enough money enough to complete the trip. C. N. Scott, formerly naval receiving officer in Louisville, traced the boys to Kentucky.

CLUBWOMEN TO DINE ON HOOVER FARE

Frugal Relief Meal to Be Served To-Morrow at Many Prominent Societies.

Self-denial day will be observed here to-morrow by diners at women's clubs who will eat the frugal Hoover meal that is the daily portion of an undernourished child in the feeding centers abroad. Mrs. Willard Straight, Chairman of the Woman's Emergency Committee of the European Relief Council, No. 26 West 39th Street, said to-day many organizations will serve only bread and coco, costing at most 25 cents, the remainder of the money paid by the guests to go to the fund for starving children.

Among the women's clubs to pledge their memberships to the self-denial are the Colony Club, the Cosmopolitan Club, Women's City Club, University Club, Art Students' Club and the Juilliard, Lincoln, Room.

Through the efforts of clubs affiliated with the Henry Street settlement twenty-eight children will be provided with food, clothes and medicine from now until the next harvest.

DEATH HOUSE CHEF QUILTS.

Condemned Men Too Hard to Please and Tipless.

Jim Blanche, the prize inmate chef of Sing Sing, who left Warden Lavers's own kitchen to cook for condemned prisoners in death house, yesterday quit his job because his customers were too hard to please. Having enjoyed the condemned men's censure, hereafter the cooking will be supervised by Louis Bissell, official chef of Sing Sing. Skilled in the culinary arts, Blanche's pride was hurt by the grumbling of his usual than two dozen of customers. Where he cooked for James O'Leary of Rochester, Guy Nichols and Jean Walker of Brooklyn, Angelo Giordano of Manhattan and others.
